GENERAL HARRISON.

He is Officially Notified of His Nomination.

M. M. ESTEE THE SPOKESMAN.

The Nominee Replies and in Fitting Terms Accepts the Honor Conferred Upon Him.

Harrison's Official Notification.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 4.—The notification committee, representing the late Republican national convention, to-day officially informed General Harrison of his nomination as the candidate of the Republican party for President. At 10 o'clock this morning, the delegates comprising the notification committee, met in the parlors of the New Levison Hotel for the purpose of arranging the details of the ceremony and signing of the official notice. Hon. M. M. Estee, of California, chairman of the Republican convention, presided, and Charles Casbee acted as secretary. Ex-Governor Foster, of Ohio, and Hon. Logan Root, of Arkansas, were placed in nomination for vice-chairman of the committee, but both declined in favor of H. A. Potter, of New York, who was unanimously chosen. The address to General Harrison having been signed by each member, the convention placed itself at the disposal of the local committee of arrangement of which Hon. J. M. Huston is chairman. Before adjourning the convention voted to meet in New York City at Murray Hill Hotel at 10 o'clock a.m. next Thursday for the purpose of arranging a programme for the notification of Hon. Levi P. Morton. At 11:30 the delegates proceeded to the house of Mr. Morton. Russell Harrison and Captain M. G. McLean met the delegates at the door, and escorted them through the hall to the parlor, it being the centre room between the drawing room and the library. In the latter rooms and hallway, were crowded friends and neighbors of General Harrison, including many ladies. When the committee had all entered, Gen. Harrison and his wife, came downstairs just as Mrs. Harrison reached the last step she tripped and fell on her knees, but the General soon assisted her to arise and with admirable composure the distinguished lady took the General's arm and entered the parlor amid respectful silence. As the ladies took their position beside General Harrison, Chairman Estee stepped forward and in a splendid voice said: "General Harrison, we are commissioned by the National Republican Convention to officially notify you of your nomination as Republican candidate for President. In doing this we may be permitted to say that your selection met the hearty approval of the whole country. It left no unembittered feelings or lukewarm supporters, and its action evoked the average and best judgment of the convention. It is true that distinguished gentlemen, well known to the people who were experienced in public affairs, illustrations in character and worthy of the people's confidence and support, were before the convention as candidates, and yet you were chosen. Nor was your nomination due to accident or the result of hasty and inconsiderate deliberation. It indicated rather that you possessed, in an eminent degree, those peculiar qualities which commend you to the people. In the hour of our country's peril, you cheerfully accepted a humble position in the army, went where your country most needed you, and, by long and faithful service, arose to a higher command, assumed greater responsibilities. Elected to the United States Senate, your enlightened and conservative statesmanship commanded the respect and the confidence of the American people. The platform adopted by the National Republican Convention marks out with clearness and precision the creed of the party. The American system of protection to American labor and products in American markets; sacredness and purity of the ballot, protection of American citizens (native and adopted) at home or abroad, on land and on sea; prohibition of Chinese immigration, building up of our navy; erections of our coast defense and general care of our old soldiers and sailors of our republic which take a conspicuous place in our platform. These and other subjects referred to in the platform will doubtless receive your careful consideration. In conclusion, we beg to assure our personal satisfaction at your nomination and we indulge in the belief that your election is already assured.

When Mr. Estee had concluded General Harrison read his reply from a manuscript in a full, rich voice as follows: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee.—The official notice which you have brought of the nomination conferred on me by the National Republican Convention recently held at Chicago excites emotions of profound, though somewhat conflicting character, that after full deliberation and free consultation, the representatives of the Republican party of the United States should have concluded that the great principles in the platform adopted by the Convention could in some measure be safely confided in my care, is an honor of which I am deeply sensible and for which I am very grateful. I do not assume or believe that this choice implies that the convention found in me any pre-eminent fitness or exceptional fidelity to the principles of the government to which we are mutually pledged. My satisfaction with the result would be altogether spirited, if that result had been reached by any unworthy methods, or by a disparagement of the more eminent men who divided the suffrage of the convention. I accept the nomination with a deep sense of the dignity of the office, and the gravity of its duties, as to altogether exclude any feeling of exultation or pride. The principles of government and practices in the administrations upon which the issues are now fortunately, so clearly made are the import in its relations to the national and individual prosperity that we may expect an unusual popular interest in the campaign. Relying wholly upon the consideration of our fellow-citizens and gracious of the good. We will confidently submit our cause to the arguments of free ballot. The day you have chosen for this suggestion of thoughts that are not in harmony with the occasion. The Republican party has walked in the light of the Declaration of Independence; it has lifted the shaft of patriotism upon the foundation laid at Bunker Hill. It has made a more perfect Union secured by making all men free. Washington, Lincoln, Yorktown and Appomattox, the Declaration of Independence and the Proclamation of Emancipation are naturally and worthily associated in our thoughts to-day. As soon as may be possible I shall by letter communicate to your chairman a more formal acceptance of the nomination but it is proper to say that I have already examined the platform with some care, and that its declaration to some of which your chairman has alluded to, is in harmony with my view. It gives me pleasure gentlemen to receive you in my home and to thank you for the cordial manner in which you have conveyed your official message."

Long and hearty applause re-echoed throughout the house as Gen. Harrison concluded his address and reaching forth cordially grasped extended hand of Chairman Estee who then presented him with the official copy of his nomination. Secretary Tinsbee, then handed the General an engraved official copy of the Republican platform. The formalities of the occasion having been concluded General Harrison instantly became the genial host while Chairman Estee, acting as master of ceremonies introduced each gentleman as they passed the ladies. General Harrison invited the members of the committee to remain and partake of an elegant lunch which was served in the spacious dining room adjoining the library. After the committee had been served, General Harrison and son came out and rounded up the hungry newspapermen and served them with the good things of his table. Mr. Jackson, a reporter for the New York Sun, was overcome by the heat, while in the drawing room, during the speech making.

Relief Expedition.

BERLIN, July 4.—An expedition is being formed here for the relief of Emin Bey.

At His Post Day and Night.

The vigilant imp, indigestion, goads us with his many-lashed scourge. Each lash is a diabolic symptom. No comfort in eating, misery afterwards, little or broken rest at night, visitations of the nightmare during fitful intervals of sleep, an uprising unrefreshed and without appetite, sleepiness and yawning during the day, nervousness and irritability of temper, even monomania in extreme cases. Hard to bear, all this. Necessary? Not a thousand times no, so long as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the nation's specific for indigestion, acute or chronic, is procurable. The commencement of a course of this medicine is the commencement of a cure. Prompt relief first, absolute eradication subsequently. The truth of this statement, backed up by irrefragable testimony, is well known to the American people. So are others, viz.: that the Bitters averts and cures fever and ague and bilious remittent, and removes nervousness, biliousness, constipation, and kidney and bladder troubles.

THE OHIO EXPOSITION.

It is Formally Opened at Cincinnati.

TURF EVENTS OF WEDNESDAY.

The London "Times" Libel Suit—General Sheridan's Condition More Favorable—Etc., Etc.

The Exposition.

CINCINNATI, July 4.—The streets were alive with strangers this afternoon. At 9 o'clock the gates of the exposition were thrown open. At 11 o'clock the formal opening exercises began at the Music Hall. The stage was filled with the May festival chorus and the Cincinnati orchestra. The entrance of Governor Foraker, Governor Thayer, of Nebraska, Governor Gray, of Indiana, Governor Beaver, of Philadelphia, with their brilliant staffs, Hon. John Sherman and Hon. Benj. Butterworth, was signalled by hearty applause. An eloquent prayer was offered by Rev. George B. Thayer, Governor Foraker made the welcoming address. He began by naming the governors and others who were present upon the platform. When he named the last on the list, that illustrious son of Ohio, Senator Sherman, there was a tempest of applause which broke in to interrupt the proceedings. Governor Foraker and the president of the exposition, President Allison, then stepped to the side of the stage, and, pressing an electric button gave twelve signals of the gong. Suddenly a gong in the hall sounded, followed by a ripple of applause, and Governor Foraker explained to the audience that the gong had been sounded by electric touch by the finger of Mrs. Polk at her home in Nashville. Then little Mary Allison, the 10-year old daughter of President James Allison, stepped to the side of the stage, and, pressing an electric button gave twelve signals of the gong. The great parade started promptly at 2:30, and moved without serious delay over a six-mile route. It required two hours to pass a given point, and was witnessed throughout by delighted crowds.

Big Ralestorm.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., July 4.—The celebration was summarily stopped to-day by a threatened cyclone. A panic ensued and 5,000 people were in a pandemonium. The slip to the Milwaukee bridge broke, injuring a number, though none fatally. The storm proved only a rain storm.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of ten years standing. Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store.

Tammany Society.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The Tammany Society to-day celebrated for the one hundredth time, the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. Usually the celebration takes place in Wigwag, but on account of a recent fire there it compelled the assembling in the Academy of Music. In addition to the members of the society, there occupied seats on the platform as guests, Senator Vest, of Texas; Patrick A. Collins, of Massachusetts; James B. McCreary, of Kentucky; Charles E. Hooker, of Mississippi; Benjamin F. Shively, of Indiana; Melbourne H. Ford, of Michigan; William McAdoo, of New Jersey; S. S. Cox and others. Many letters of regret were read, among them, one from President Egan, in Paris, to James Carey, in Dublin. He said, "I have sent me (meaning Mullet) who was afterward sentenced to penal servitude for connection with the Phoenix Park murders, £200. He will give you what you want. When will you undertake to get the work done? Give us value for our money." The reading of this caused a sensation in the court. Letters were then produced which showed that Mr. Egan supported Carey from his seat in the municipal council of Dublin, and a note alleged to be in Mr. Parnell's handwriting and smuggled from Melbourn to Egan, saying "what are these fellows waiting for? Inaction is inexpedient. Our best men are in prison. Nothing has been done. End this hesitancy. Make it hot for old Forster."

Further proof tends to show that Mr. Parnell assisted Byrne to escape, and after the moral guilt of Shendon, Egan and others had become oblivious to everybody. The leaders of the League maintained communication with them and received money for them. Ad-journed.

The Vote of Confidence.

PARIS, July 4.—The motion expressing confidence in the Government, which was adopted by the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, was carried by a vote of 270 to 157. Several of the papers regard the vote as a fatal blow to the Opportunists in the future. They say the struggle will be confined to the Radicals and Conservatives.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at A. C. Smith & Co's, Drug Store.

The Thunderer's Libel.

LONDON, July 4.—The trial of the libel suit of O'Donnell against the Times was resumed to-day. Attorney-General Webster read a letter with the view of showing that the League instigated the Phoenix Park murder.

Among the letters read by the Attorney-General was one dated October, 1881, written after Parnell's arrest, by Egan, in Paris, to James Carey, in Dublin. He said, "I have sent me (meaning Mullet) who was afterward sentenced to penal servitude for connection with the Phoenix Park murders, £200. He will give you what you want. When will you undertake to get the work done? Give us value for our money." The reading of this caused a sensation in the court.
